

If I Should Fall

Words & music by Danielle Bisutti (Copyright © 2003)

You came in swiftly
You came to my surprise
You had the courage to stand
With open eyes
If ever there was
A reflection of truth
The image bearer of light
They would all be you
I'm daily walking through
Paths I've tread before
Intoxicated with life
Still wanting more
If I could change
The way my heart beats so fast
Then maybe peace would Fulfill this soul at last

IF I SHOULD FALL, I believe that
There would be nothing left of me
And I hear the call
When you're breathing
But it won't be long 'till I see
That it's not enough
It's never enough

It's delicate
It's a complicated mind
Illusions have left my heart
Deaf, dumb and blind
I'm caught inside
A reality condensed
On how I thought it should be
I must confess

IF I SHOULD FALL, I believe that
There would be nothing left of me
And I hear the call
When you're breathing
But it won't be long 'till I see

That it's not enough
It's never enough
Why can't this be enough
It's not enough

I never wanted to Break that boy again
I never thought that
This girl could Hold it all in
This broken body has Seen all kinds of sin
I just want to feel alive
Be Born Again
