

Shine On

Words & music by Danielle Bisutti (Copyright © 2003)

Is it fair for me to
Dream of you bear
Beneath the swells of my affection?
Is it like me to
Hunger for the feast
Already been had?
I must love this circle
Ingrained in all of afflictions
And I try to break
The spell I've cast
But the water keeps pulling me in

Hey, there's a lot you don't know about me
And I would reveal a dirty smile just to let you see
And hey, I know this is real
Unravel my spine, slowly in time
Fill this chord, make it warm
Let me know that you're mine

Must these lines
Always be filled with music?
Must this love be so bitter
I can feel it sweet?
Must I uncover all the
Mysteries of being a woman?
Must I never taste your sugar
In the evenings when we meet?

I'm so tired of always being
So fucking creative
'Cause in these miles
I've traveled all alone
And to think that you could play my heart
Like it was your latest invention
Let me writhe into the dissonance
Alive within your soul

Give to me
Sweet unrequited bliss
Your honey hair
Stained upon these tortured lips

Spiral down to my Darkest Light
Shine to burn and burn to shine
SHINE ON this love of mine
When I'm doing everything
Not to pick up the phone
It's only natural, yes
This is what I know
